

Sponsorship Benefits and Opportunities

October 18, 2019 - Brussels - 25nd Annual Symposium of the Belgian Society for Microbiology
"Microbes without Frontiers"

The 25nd symposium of the Belgian Society for Microbiology (BSM), provides an excellent opportunity for microbiologists to gather and discuss their exciting results for an international forum. The annual BSM meetings are well-known amongst Belgian microbiologists; witness the fact that each year up to 200 microbiologists attend the meeting in the Academy Palace, a prestigious and historical environment in the center of Brussels.

Your support as a sponsor or exhibitor is vital to the success of the meeting and there are excellent opportunities to participate. This meeting offers an ideal place to renew contact with existing customers and inform a key target audience about new products.

The meeting also provides your staff the possibility to gain otherwise unavailable information on current microbial research.

Sponsorship is important to keep the conferences at the highest level and is an excellent way to give visibility to your company, promote your brand, and gain access to over 200 attendees. There is a variety of sponsorship packages for companies of all sizes.
